Post-Office Reform. Mesers. Editors: Looking over the Editorial Correspondence of the 8th instant, on the subject of the Postmaster General's Report, I observe that the Revenue of Great Britain, derived from the Post Office Department during the last year previous to the Reduction, (viz, 1839,) was Eleven and a Half Millions of Dollars; and that the Post age Rates were higher than our present Rates .-Assume, then, that the average rate was twelve and a half cents, (which I consider as under the average here.) it shows 92,000,000 letters; and that the number of letters, after the reduction. was increased to two and one half times that number, making 240,000,000 letters, which, at two cents per letter, would amount to 4,800,000 dollars, being a falling off of Revenue of 6,700,000 dollars. Now admitting these to be facts, and that the reduction made had been not two cents, but to the Rates we ask, viz., five and ten cents, averaging say six cents, the result would have been an increase of Revenue of 2.900,000 dollars. It may be answered that this rate of Reduction would not have produced the increased number of letters. I cannot say that there it would. But does any one doubt that such would be the effect here? It is believed that responsible men would gladly guarantee it in the Penitentiary. for five, or even three years, if they can have the surplus.

Now of our own Revenue :- The Postmaster General says the Receipts were 4,295,925 dol- January next. lars-say 4,300,000 dollars. The average of Postage is above rather than below twelve and one half cents,-fifteen is nearer the average; but at the first sum, the number of letters would be 34,400,000. Increase to two and a half times that number would make 86,000,000, which, at six cents each, would probably be a fair average, provided the rates were fixed at five cents for three hundred miles and under, and ten cents for over that distance, would amount to the sum of 5,160,000 dollars, being an increase of 860,000 from last year's receipts; enough, and more than enough, to meet all the extra expense attending the receipt, transportation and delivery of the extra number of letters.

I was struck by comparing the number of let ters passing through the two Post-Offices of Great Britain and the United States. According to the preceding article the number in Great Britain being 92,000,000, in ours but 34,400,000, does any one suppose that this is a fair comparison? Would not the letters now sent by private conveyance bring up our number quite to theirs? Business men of intelligence will all agree in

CITY INTELLIGENCE. THURSDAY.

Trial of Moses Y. Beach for Libel on Ben-janua H. Day.

COURT OF SESSIONS.... Before the RECORDER and Aldermen Rawson and Waterman.—Jonas B. Phil-Lips, Acting District Attorney.

This case was resumed this morning.

Jonas B. Phillips, Esq. called for defence, sworn.

Deposed that he is District Attorney ad interim, and has been connected with the District Attorney's office since the 14th of August Jast. To a question of Mr. De Witt, as to what was called 'straw bail,' he replied that he understood it to be irresponsible bail—('straw bail') being a term used in the article called libelous.)

Mr. DE WITT then read from several recognizances in evidence, showing that Mr. Day was bail in four cases for H. S. Bartlett and C. K. Thompson

Lucius Robinson, Esq. sworn-Testifies that Mr. Day was held to bail himself on several suits, and was special bail to the amount of $40,000. Mr. Day was examined before the several suits. ball to the amount of $40,000. Mr. Day was examined before the Recorder touching his competency to become ball insuits brought against C. K. Thompson and H. S. Bartlett. Mr. Day swore in reply to my first question, that he was worth $3000. He said his property was personal principally—printing materials in his publishing, house in Nassan streat, and his household furniture; the former he estimated at $10,000 and furniture at $500. He said he had title to 2 house in Duanest, which was mortgaged for $2000, which he thought would self which was mortgaged for $3000, which he thought would sell for $3500 above the mortgage. He did not pretend he had any other property.

Cross-examined—I am the Attorney of Beach in some suits.
I was employed by Mrs. Famaris and Miss Coit to bring suits against Messrs. Battlett and Thompson. Mr. Beach did not employ nor pay me—nor have they paid me, but suppose they will when I ask them: I saw Mr. Beach when I wished to obtain any information that I thought he possessed that might be of service in these suits. The suits were brought by those ledge for libel. Cyrus W. Fields, sworn .- I am in the paper business; store in Barling Slip; Mr. Bartlett was or in publisher or proprietor of the Sunday Bulletin; he purchased about $200 worth of paper of me the 2d or 3d week of its publication; Bartlett gave me his note; Hamilton gave me an agreement that he would be responsible for the payment of the first note. Lucius Robinson, Esq., re-called and examined.—

The orders of the Court to hold to bail in the cases where Day became bail were for $10,000. (Mr. De Witt contended that the bail became liable for whatever amount was recovered, excepted to the decision of the Court, ruting the above into the case.) The suits on which Day became bail were not ruled out of Court at the time of the publication—but were noticed for trial—Mr. Beach did not in any form or shape control those suits. I examined him as I would any other witness—I did not permit any defaults on the suits I brought at the instance of Mr. Beach—two of the suits were noticed for trial new. I did not converse with Mr. Beach about this libel until after its publication—At the time of becoming bail Mr. Day did at first refuse to disclose further evidence of bail—but afterwards answered until the Recorder was satisfied—I know Jerimiah J. Hamilton somewhat intimately—I also know Mr. Bartlett, he was in the Sun office until March last, and while I was there. Lucius Robinson, Esq., re-called and examined .-

Was there.
[Here the Grand Jury came into court with a number of bills, and through their foreman having stated that they completed their business, were discharged with the thanks of the Court, having found 69 bills, and dismissed 17 complaints.]

Mr. Robinson, continued-I never knew Mr. Beach to borrow money of Hamilton; don't know I ever saw Hamilton closetted with Beach; don't know that Mr. Beach employed Hamilton to do business for him, or that he wrote for the Sun; don't know that Hamilton prepared the manuscript for the pamphlet relative to the wealthy citizens of New York.

I was named as editor of the Sun in 1339, and remained till a Feer and in large last. I recollect that Mr. Beach said he did year ago in June last. I recollect that Mr. Beach said he did not wish Hamilton to come to the office. Moses Beach, Jr. sworn .- Notice shown in Sun paper. This is a copy of a notice given into my hand by Benj. H. Day from Jeremiah J. Hamilton-it is in Hamilton's hand writing—note read—giving Hamilton's version of the arrest for conspiracy, and threatening to hold Beach accountable if he published his arrest. Hamilton came often to the office to see Bartlett before the latter left, and before Day was bought out. My father removed a sola and chairs from the office, about the time Day left, to keep Hamilton from loafing about there. Have often seen Bartlett and Hamilton and Day together in the street—have seen them locked arms in the Cross-examined.-Hamilton came into our office almost Cross-examined.—Hamilton came nato our office almost every day—he came generally to see Mr. Bartlett—my father did not relish Hamilton's coming there. He spoke to Hamilton on business as he did to any other mm. He treated Hamilton very cooly generally. Have heard my father talk to him about selling his specie for him—talked to him about stocks. I never saw Mrs. Famaris at the office. Saw Day, Hamilton and Bartlett walking arm in arm in Nassan street last summer frequently. Mr. Day is my uncle. William Applegate, sworn.—Has seen Hamilton, Day and Bartiett frequently together; have heard many persons speak bad of him.

Cross-Examined.—I have heard Mr. Day speak bad of Hamilton some two years ago; he wished me to get an arti-cle against Hamilton suppressed in Wooldridge's pager. Day said Hamilton was a bad fellow, but he had business with him, and did not wish him exposeds.

The United States schr Van Buren arrived at Charlest. 18th, from the wreck of the Br big Mogaret Balfour. To cargo will be a total loss, she having hilged shortly after si struck-left six small smacks saving the rigging, sails, &c. Justice Merritt, recalled .- I do not believe that Hamilton is a white man. He does not wear his own hair he wears a wig. I have seen Hamilton with his wig off: his hair was rather curly. You can see whither he is a negro or not, as well as I can. I knew Hamilton some ten years ago in my official capacity as Police Officer. I then took off his wig.—He was never convicted of any thing, as I know of. The defence rested; and after an attempt on the part of the prosecution to introduce other evidence, the testimony closed on both sides, and the Court adjourned to Friday, 11 o'clock.

St. Lucia also felt this visitation at half past 3 o'clock on the 16th Oct. when so smart was the vibration that many persons fied from their houses into the street. Tortola was visited with a gale of considerable force on the 27th and 28th ult. which severely damaged several plant-

FROM FLORIDA .- We learn by the St. Augustine Herald of the 12th uit, that the Revenue Cutter Crawford, Capt. Day, had returned from a cruise as far South as Cape Canaverel, touching at Mosquito. Lieut Whitehead and six men were left at Smyrna. The C. left at Mosquito brig Roxana, Swift, waiting for a cargo of live oak, and schooner Louisa, Marsh, with a full cargo. Lieut. J. E. Blake, U. S. Topographical Engineer had returned to St. Augustiae, having completed the survey of the Haulo-ver, between Indian River and Mosquito Inlet. The distance to be cut through is 725 yards, summit level 7½ feet-estimated cost about $3,000.

Among other articles will be found, a new and superb style of BOUQUET and MATCH HOLDERS, and PORCELAIN SHADES for Lamps, to be Sound no where else in New-York, with a great variety of Papier Mache Goods, and articles for the Toilette of the richest description.

Papier Mache Goods, and articles for the Tonetic of the United est description.

They have also on hand the most varied stock in the United States of Bronzed and Or-molu Chandeliers; Centre, Mantel, Solar (electrotype fountains.) Bracket and Reading Lamps; Candelabra, Girandoles, Bracket Branches, and Candlestneks, in every variety of pattern. CABIN SOLAR LAMPS, a new and superb article, peculiarly suitable for Packets and Steam Ships; all of their own manufacture, and for which they were awarded the GOLD MEDAL at the late Fair of the American Institute.

FAIRBANKS'S PATENT PLATFORM SCALES 1. The manufacturers have brought these Balances to a very creat degree of perfection, and, in their various modifications, have adapted them to all the purposes for which heavy trans-have adapted them to all the purposes for which heavy transbactions are required by weight. In the mechanical construction, care is taken to secure STRENGTH, DURABILITY and ACCURACY—accuracy not merely as a specific point and to a given amount, but uniform accuracy at every angle of the Planform and throughout the entire range, from the lowest to the highest capacity of the Balance.

These Scales keep their adjustment perfectly, are never liable to derangement, and seldom to any expense for repairs.—
They are in use in most of the Raifroads in the United States, and in some of them they have been long in use, the operation being perfect. Se also in the Dormant and Portable Scales for weighing merchandise. Merchants and others who have had them in constant use for a succession of years, testify to their uniform accuracy, and to the fact that they appear unaffected by wear. These Scales have also been pateuted in England, where they are expensively used, both in private warehouses and public railways.

NOTICE—Sufficient is it in answer to the advertisement that appears to the contracy, that we not only have the Tools of John Congen, 33 Attorney-street, New-York, for sale as here advertised, but we also have the genuine warrant in all respects equal, if not superior, to John Conger's.

And as the said John Conger has manifested so much feeling in relation to our selling Tools that are not his make, we deem it but justice, for the information of the public, to say that the said John Conger learned his trade with the lather of said John P. CHarles Osborn, CHarles S. Little.

CHARLES OSBORN, CHARLES S. LITTLE.

IN REPLY to the remarks annexed to the ad-IN REPLY to the remarks annexed to the advertisement of OSBORN & LITTLE, in which they state they have my Tools for sale, I would simply say—if indeed such be the fact—it is without my knowledge, consentor wish. By what means they have obtained them I cannot conceive, and by what motives prompted, I cannot comprehend. Surely net a desire to benefit me, else no secret measures were necessary to accomplish their purpose. Does their advertisement manifest such a desire? Are they not rather accounted by a desire to justify the meetly sin their former decit. sures were necessary to accomplish their purpose. Does their advertisement manifest such a desire? Are they not rather actuated by a desire to justify themselves in their former deceit and screen themselves from the virtuous indignation of a discriminating public? I leave vou to judge. They have acknowledged that the Tools which they have heretofore been palming upon the public stamped "Conger" have been frequently purchased under the impression that they were of my manufacture. Such, at least, both Mr. Osborn and Mr. Little admitted to me, sometime since, they supposed to be the fact. When I requested to know where and how they obtained those tools and who wazithe manufacturer of them, all information on the subject was refused me. They complain that I manifest some feeling because they sell tools which are not my manufacture. That I deny. I would ask who is the mechanic that would not manifest some small degree of feeling if a spurious article was brought into the market and palmed upon the public as being of his manufacture? Such has been my situation, and when the manufacturer of the spurious article is detected, they would, for sooth, make it appear that his name stands very high as a manufacturer of edge tools. Why, therefore, if his reputation was so great, have they remained so long entirely careless of his interests that they have been at the utmost trouble to conceal every thing concerning him save that his name was "Conger?" At first his name was sufferity." Contirely careless of his interests that they have been at the utmost trouble to conceal every thing concerning him save that his name was "Conger"? At first his name was simply "Conger," then it was "John Conger," and lo, and behold, now it has become John P. Conger. Again they say that I learned my trade of his father. True. I was an apprentice to his father, but had I never known more than I learned in his shop I should never have been troubled by persons endeavoring to palm spurious tools upon the public as my manufacture. As for his father being the first worker of cast steel, or the inventor of welding cast steel, it is entirely false. I never saw a rice of cast steel in his shop during my apprenticeship. After I had been in this city some two or three years and had learned to work cast steel, the father of John P. Conger came to this city to learn the process of welding cast steel, and it was I who showed him the process. Such are his claims as the the first worker of cast steel.

As for John P. Conger it is an old trick of his to palm off his tools as being manufactured by me but while alone he did

As for John P. Conger it is an old trick of his to palm off his tools as being manufactured by me but while alone he did not make it work very well, but having procured Osborn & Little to assist in doing the mean and dirty work, they have been somewhat successful, and appear to be quite wrathy in being detected in these operations. All I sak of them therefore is, that they may no longer be ashemed to put the real maker's name in full and place of business on the tools, as other mechanics do, that they may stand on their own merits. P. S.—Osborn & Little assert so pasitively that they have my tools I suppose they have obtained a semple, which they keep as a kind of stool pigson to enable them more successfully to to put off the spurious tools.

JOHN CONGER, 33 Attorney street,
New York.

JOHN CONGER, 33 Automey street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Whereas Osborn & Little, of 33 Fulton-street, have advertised Conger's Edge Tools for sale, and and the impression has gone abroad that they are of my make, and whereas the said Osborn & Little are unwilling to remove said erroncous impression by stating the whereabouts of the real maker, therefore to undeceive my friends and the public in general, I would merely state that my tools can be had at only No. 33 Attorney street, or at G-orge Briggs & Co. No. 115 Maiden-lane, where a full supply may always be had, at a liberal discount to dealers, and in future will be stamped Conger, N. Y. 33 Attorney street. 023 3m. JOHN CONGER, New-York.

P. S. Osborn & Little do not tell the whole story yet—the tools they offer for sale are made by John P. Conger, New-ark, New-Jersey, and not by JOHN CONGER, of New-Ark, New-Jersey, and not by JOHN CONGER, of New-Ark, New-Jersey, and not by JOHN CONGER, of New-Ark, as they would feign make the public believe. do

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP.

TROM M. E. VAN BUREN.—I, the Subscriber, do hereby certify, that about eighteen months since, I caught a heavy cold, which produced a violent cough, pain in the breast, and a general derangement of the whole system—
The symptoms gradually increased, notwithstanding the many remedies that were used. My cough was very tight and nosblesome; considerable emaciation and weakness; at times, violent palpitation of the heart, particularly when I excited myself; hectic fever; chills, which were succeeded by hot flashes, and great burning in the palm of my hands and soles of my feet. My bowels were costive and irregular. Being of the opinion of my physicians that I was in a rapid decline, I never expected to recover. Herring at this time so much of Schenick's Pulmonic Symp, and the great cures it was making in this city, I resolved to give it a trial. Soon after I commenced using it, it caused a copious expectoration of yellow matter, which afforded me great relief. Under its use all my disease disappeared, and I now enjoy almost as good health as ever I did.

My residence is at No. 18 Christopher-street, where any SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP. My residence is at No. 18 Christopher-street, where any

THE good qualities of this Lamp have been so well tested the past season, as to enable the subscriber to recommend it with confidence as being far preferable to any other lamp yet offered to the public. Its advantages are—first, the cold lard is used to fill the lamps; second, it lights up at once without any previous care taken to saturate the wick, as is the case with all others now in use; third is, it burns as brightly until the lard is all commed as when first lighted; and lastly, the common cotton wick is used, the same as in an ordinary round to be oil lamp, and it has been ascertained that one pound of lard will burn more than forty-eight hours, and give as much light as two of the best mould candles.
